DISNEYLAND ?

April

Thursday

My parents have organized a trip to Paris. They say that we are going to visit the museum of Lubre and the Torre Eiffel when everyone knows that the best is Disneyland, that I sure that we go.

Friday

My mother only talks about the trip, I think she has already told half of Spain.

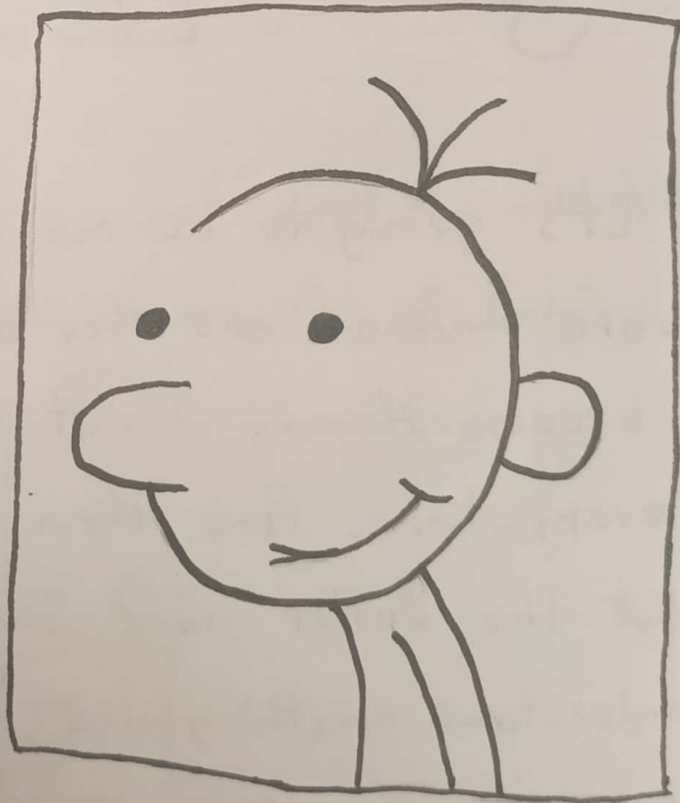

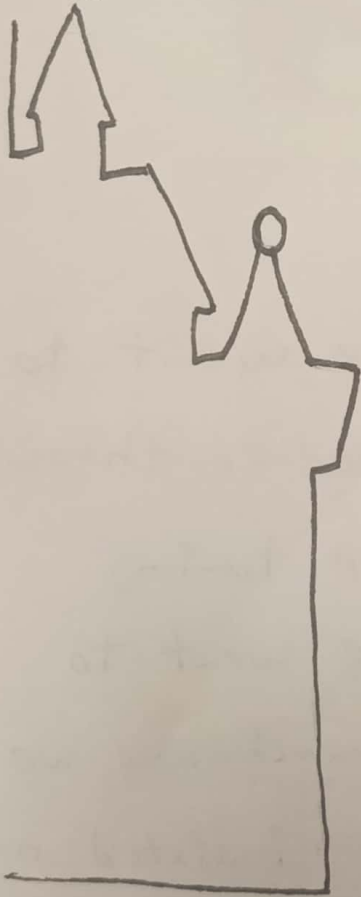

Finally we left for Paris!

Although my brother Rodrick is not very excited about going to Paris instead of going to a place with a beach.

Saturday

We have already arrived in Paris and surely they have booked a hotel in Disneyland.

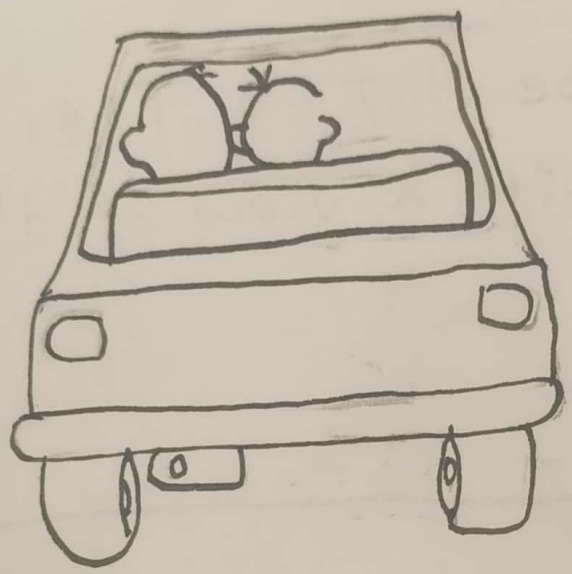

Well, it will be that no. They have booked a hotel with a view of the Eiffel Tower.

Well we've been here for a week, I'm sure one day we'll go to Disneyland.

Sunday

We are in a rental car and surely we are going to the subway to go to Disneyland.

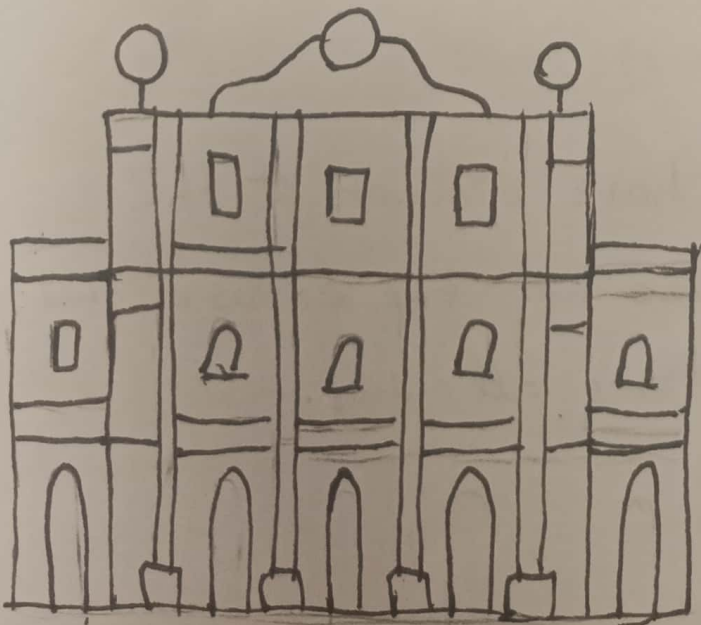

Well, it's going to be no, we went to the Lubre museum and they ended up throwing us out because Mommy didn't stop running around everywhere. And then we went to diner, but the letter was in French and we didn't understand anything and mom insisted on not using her cell phone.

Momday

We've got on a train and we're going to Disneyland, which is just outside.

In the end we have gone to the Versailles out to be on the other side of Paris.

Tuesday

Today I know where we are going, because two weeks ago mom brought home a magazine of things on sale in Paris.

I'm sure we go store by store, seeing clothes.

Mom agreed to have dinner at the burger, since we gave her the excuse that we had been in stores all day.

Wednesday

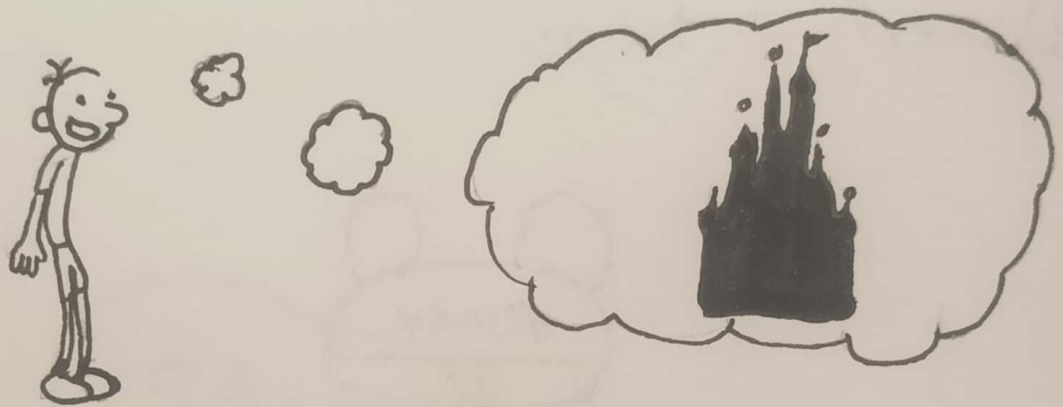

We left in the morning and my mother was wearing a Disneyland hat, and I'm sure that's a sign that we're going to Disneyland today.

We went to the centre of Paris and it turns out that they had taken tickets to take a ride on a boat along the Seine River.

Thursday

I had already lost all hope when my parents said that since it was the last day there was a surprise.

After getting excited again, it turned out that we were not going to go to Disneyland. To top it off we were going to the Eiffel Tower, and it was very hot and the queue was endless. After that we went to the airport to return home, but without having gone to Disneyland Paris.
